

If there is news you would like other readers to know about or want to relate what happened to you perhaps at work. Tell us about it and we will print it in the "Workers Bulletin". Most of the news printed here stresses one thing of workers want something on a higher standard and good living they are obliged to stand together with workers and the Trade Unions. Most workers are afraid and think it may be against the government policy. That is not the truth. There is no government which refuses anybody the right joining such movements. So workers do not worry themselves that they land in prison if they form such committees or join Trade Unions. There are many workers who have joined these unions and it has helped them to receive better salaries and higher working positions. Most workers cannot live or progress well if even under good conditions if they are not united. These unions are allowed by the government. Most of the workers are aware of this, but they need be informed by the workers.

Workers unite - then derive good living.

If you would like the workers bulletin or would like to know about the committees or unions you may write to the Industrial Aid you will find their address as you read on in this bulletin.

I.A.S. STARTS ADVICE BUREAU

Industrial Aid Society has opened a school for workers in their offices in Eree Street. This school is opened to everybody who is a member of the workers, and who do not want to be members, would like to attend school and meet workers and directors at the given address.

This school will part with the knowlidge in connection with the regulat... under which we should work ourselves to our rights as to progress and other advices of necessity to workers. Some workers have benefitted and there is still room to assist others.

It is being asked why committees have opened such schools. The speaker of such union explained most workers do not know anything about the law and their rights at work. Others do not know how to voice their complaints to their employers in connection with their salary, workers committees and trade unions. It is through them when formed that they may be assisted. Therefore I.A.S. expects that this school should assist those workers to enlighten them in this connection.

At present this school is on Saturdays afternoon at 2 o'clock. But should other scholars desire to be taught at some other time the committee will endeavour to do so.

All members who would like to be so assisted may come and contact us and the committee at
