Mrs. Doreen Patrick, who has been instrumental in the organisation and the work of carrying out the Malnutrition Survey, made the introductory speech, giving the background to and the Black Sash involvement in the Survey. The sample taken was the age group one to five years.

The next speaker was Miss. Elizabeth Clarke, B Soc Sc Hon, a social worker from the Charles Johnston Hospital Nqutu. She spoke on the effects of Malnutrition as they see them at Nqutu.

The next speaker was an African Social Worker from Nqutu. She explained the situation occurring among her own people as a result of malnutrition.

Mrs. Fatima Meer, Senior Lecturer in Social Science at the University of Natal, spoke of the effects of poverty and malnutrition on the Indian Community.

Mrs. Mgadi, a Social Educationalist for African Schools, told of the difficulties she encounters among the parents of children in trying to teach them to feed themselves and their children correctly and how to budget to make the best use of the money available for food.

In the afternoon Dr. Anthony Barker, the doctor in charge of the Charles Johnston Hospital gave a most moving account of his work at Nqutu. He spoke too on the Malnutrition Survey. He emphasised the large number of babies admitted to hospital as a result of being looked after by grandmothers, the break-up of family life, as a result of the migrant labour policy and the small sums of money being sent by the wage earners in the cities to keep their families in the homelands. These families depend entirely on these small amounts to feed large households.

After Dr. Barker's address, a panel of Speakers, Dr. Anthony Barker, Dr. Margaret Barker from Nqutu, Mr. Percy Thomas represented Industry and Mrs. Mgadi the Social Educationalist, answered many questions from the audience.

There was a general consensus that poverty was the major cause of malnutrition in the Homelands, but that ignorance aggravated the situation.

Mrs. Patrick and Natal Coastal were warmly congratulated on the organisation of a most interesting Symposium and on their initiative and hard work in carrying out the Malnutrition Survey.

A vote of thanks to all the speakers was proposed by Mrs. Jean Sinclair.

ITEM FOR DISCUSSION.

Housing. Mrs. Barboure, Natal Coastal Region read a lead-in paper. The appalling lack of housing for all black people resulted in Conference calling upon the Prime Minister to halt all group areas removals immediately and to provide the housing urgently need for the homeless as well as people housed under squalid conditions.

RESOLUTION. "That the Black Sash reiterates its total opposition to any further encroachment on the freedom of the Press, and promises its whole hearted support to the newspapers who have so courageously stood for justice in South Africa and integrity in their profession".

This resolution, proposed by Transvaal Region, was carried unanimously and its contents sent to the press.

Mrs. Willsworth read this Fact Paper. There is practically no industry in Grahamstown.

FACT PAPER.

The Coloured People in Johannesburg.

This paper was drawn up by a group of members of Transvaal Region and was presented by Mrs. Kabak who commented on the important points. It was accepted/
Page Seven/

It was accepted that this was a small sample from a concerned group and was not indicative that wages and conditions would be the same as if the survey had covered a cross section of the public. There was discussion on the figures presented because it was argued that the wages of domestic servants, living in and paid monthly, could not be calculated on an hourly or daily basis.

ITEM FOR DISCUSSION.

After discussion on this item, introduced for Headquarters by Mrs. Johnston, it was agreed that no action would be taken.
