

DRAFT RESOLUTION ON STRATEGY AND TACTICS
THIS NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF THE ANC

NOTING

1. That the fundamental elements of apartheid colonialism remain in place
2. That the repeal of some apartheid laws has left the basic political, social, gender and economic relations of oppression and exploitation intact
3. That in many respects the conditions of the oppressed people have deteriorated, with violent attacks on our communities, lowering of living standards, increasing homelessness, unemployment, retrenchment, a deepening of the educational crisis to disastrous proportions and other social evils

NOTING:

1. That the struggles of the people and the support of the international community have created the possibility of a negotiated resolution of the conflict in our country
2. That the regime has been obliged to accept the fact that it does not have the strength to sustain apartheid in the old way and has therefore had to enter into talks with the ANC
3. That despite the advances made by the liberation movement, the De Klerk regime still retains the capacity to implement counter-measures on a whole range of fronts, and that its objective is to retain the essentials of white domination under a new guise
4. That in this period and in the transition generally, the regime seeks to discredit and weaken the ANC and other democratic forces, gain legitimacy, divide the forces of liberation while broadening its own base, pacify the masses and thus become the supreme manager of the transitional process

AND BELIEVING THAT:

1. The struggle for the elimination of apartheid colonialism should intensify until a democratic constitution and government are in place
2. It is in the interest of the people of South Africa that the negotiating process results in the transfer of power to the people in the shortest possible time
3. The negotiating process should involve the widest spectrum of the people ensuring that they determine the final outcome through mass action, consultation and accountability
4. That negotiations can only succeed in combination with other forms of struggle

REAFFIRMS

That the ANC remains committed to the elimination of apartheid in all its manifestations and the creation of a united, democratic, nonracial and nonsexist state.

BELIEVING THAT SUCH a transformation can only be achieved through the all round intensification of struggle against the regime

COMMITTS itself to strengthen and direct all four pillars of our struggle, to strengthen the ANC in negotiations, while simultaneously preparing for conditions that may defeat the process

WITH REGARD TO THE FOUR PILLARS CONFERENCE BELIEVES THAT:

1.1 Mass organisation and mobilisation is at the centre of our struggle.

1.2 This includes ANC involvement in day to day activities of the people on all fronts and demands related to transition and the question of the transfer of power.

1.3. That the ANC is a national liberation movement providing leadership to its members and the oppressed and democratic forces of South Africa generally, over a wide range of issues. The ANC is not a political party. In formulating our policies for a democratic South Africa these should relate to mass struggles and provide an incentive for the masses to assert their just demands.

2. The underground remains essential and needs to be strengthened since the process of change is not irreversible and violent acts of counterrevolution against the forces of liberation and the oppressed people in general continue to be perpetrated

3. Armed struggle. Armed action has been suspended, but the armed struggle remains a pillar of our struggle. In a situation where the regime pursues or allows violence against us as part of its negotiations strategy it is essential for us to strengthen our people's army, Umkhonto we Sizwe, contribute decisively to building the defensive capacity of communities who are victims of the current reign of terror. We also need to undertake various measures to prepare to build an army of a democratic South Africa

4. The international pillar of our struggle has to be strengthened. Governments and international solidarity groups need to be given a clear understanding of the current situation and the perceptions of the ANC. The international community needs to continue their work against apartheid until a new democratic constitution is in place. At the same time the ANC needs to actively seek support of the international community for an end to the violence, the demand for a sovereign interim government, sovereign constituent assembly and a democratic constitution. In all its international work the ANC needs to ensure that it retains the initiative

CONFERENCE FURTHER RESOLVES

- 1 To continue pursuing negotiations as a means towards achieving our strategic objective of transfer of power to the people
2. To strengthen the ANC as a mass-based, democratic organisation, rooted amongst the people through systematic organisation and mobilisation
3. To increase the capacity of the ANC to creatively lead the people in mass action, and for ordinary people to participate actively and take initiatives at various levels

BELIEVING

That this process can be facilitated by the strengthening of the tripartite alliance of the ANC, SACP and COSATU, as a fighting force at national, regional and local levels

RECOGNISING

That the goals of the ANC can best be achieved by uniting the broadest range of people behind its democratic goals

COMMITTS ITSELF

1. to move speedily towards the building of a broad patriotic front to further the achievement of common democratic goals
- 2 And to go beyond this and draw in as many categories of people and organisations who can be won over, behind the broad goals of democracy

EXPRESSES ITS DETERMINATION

1. That our strategies and tactics will be informed by the experience of all our people, especially those who are not sufficiently involved in the ANC, such as Coloured Indian and white communities, and women of all communities
2. That the organisation will increase its emphasis on rural areas and bantustans and all other areas being given insufficient attention

2 That the period ahead will be one of struggle that will see decisive steps towards achievement of our basic demands leading towards the transfer of power to the people

THIS NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF THE AFRICAN NATIONAL CONGRESS

mandates the in-coming National Executive Committee, taking into account the resolution of the Strategy and Tactics Commission as well as other Commissions and decisions of Conference,

- * to amend the existing document on Strategy and Tactics, and
- * issue this document as Guidelines on the Strategy and Tactics of the African National Congress for the current phase of our struggle.
